Especially at Cornell University, I plan on applying in the Fall with the Early Action Application process. Although it is not the only school I will apply to, it's one of my more difficult options in reference to academic rigor. I plan to attend a four-year University in the Fall of Next year, following my Bachelor's I plan to pursue my Master's degree. By continuing to stay determined and focused it is my goal to make all of my dreams distant realities.
